

Daily Bread

Moses probably led about two million Israelites in the desert. God provided them with a special kind of food, called manna. Read Exodus 16:13–31, and answer these questions: 1. What happened when people took more manna than they could eat in one day? 2. What happened when they took extra on the sixth day?

God could have given the Israelites enough manna on one day for the whole week. But God wanted his people to trust him every day and to be satisfied with each day's food.

Are you ready to trust God each day to supply everything you need for just that one day? Try this for one week. Pray about one specific thing each day (a math test, a piano lesson, a safe ride on a field trip, or whatever). Don't worry about tomorrow. Keep track of how God answers these daily prayers.
