

How to Stop Family Fights

The shepherds of Abram and Lot fought about using the land and where to graze and water their sheep. There just wasn't enough room for both groups to live and raise their animals. Abram decided to stop the fight. Read Genesis 13:1-18 to find out how he did it.

Most brothers and sisters fight at times. Here is a suggestion to help stop the fighting:

From the story of Abram, make up rules, such as: Give the other person first choice. Be satisfied with what is left. No name-calling and no hitting.

Make a name tag with Abram's name on it. When you have a family fight, choose a person to wear the "Abram" name tag. Let "Abram" use the rules you have made to decide how to stop the fight.

You could even take turns being Abram. Then each of you will learn how to please God, just as Abram did.

Live It!
