

Praying in Your Heart

Praying in your heart means praying to God without saying anything out loud. In Genesis 24:1–21 read what happened when Abraham's servant may have prayed in his heart.

Here are some places you might want to pray in your heart instead of out loud:

- In school, when you are about to take a test.
- When you have to perform in front of an audience.
- On the school bus, if teasing is going on.

List three other places or situations in which you might want to pray in your heart, and then list three places or situations in which you would pray out loud.
