

Wrong Decisions

Adam and Eve made a wrong decision, and they ate from a tree that God had told them to leave alone. Do you ever wonder why they did it? For some answers, read Genesis 3:1–13. Adam and Eve made the wrong decision because:

- 3:4 Someone told them it was all right to do the wrong thing.
- 3:5 It looked like an exciting thing to do.
- 3:6 A close friend did it first.

After Adam and Eve had made that wrong decision, they felt guilty and afraid. They hid from God when he entered the garden. They knew they had done wrong, but it was too late.

Think about what you should say if someone tells you it's all right to do a wrong thing, if something wrong looks exciting, or if a friend does a wrong thing first and wants you to do it too. If you can't think of a good answer, ask an older friend or your mom or dad for advice.

Live It!
