

What You Heard

Timothy's mother and grandmother, and later Paul, taught Timothy about God and Jesus. Who has taught you about God? Your parents? Grandparents? Teachers? Church school teachers? Ministers? Ask each one to tell you the most important thing they would like to teach you—something they want you to remember all your life.

Write down what they tell you. Look at what you've written every few weeks to remind yourself of what you have learned.

Live It!
