

Joy After Sadness

People are often sad at funerals. The body of someone they love is about to be buried in the ground. It's all right to cry when a person we love dies and is buried. But Isaiah 26:19 is about joy. Read it to find out why, even when Christians feel sadness, we know that joy will come.

Make a reminder that your loved one will rise from the dead. Fold a sheet of paper in two. Draw a grave on the outside of the fold. Inside the fold, glue a photo or draw a picture of your friend or relative. When the paper is folded, you see only the grave. When the paper is unfolded, you see your loved one alive again, and happy.

Live It!
